

FAMILY MAY PERISH FROM MURDER TRY

Bloodhounds Put After Assailants of Tremblay Family at Concordia Early Today Who Slew One and Probably Fatally Wounded Four.

KILLED WITH AXE

Small Daughter Only One to Escape Without Injury.

Theodore Tremblay Slain and Five Others Hurt.

FOUR MAY BE DEATH TOTAL

Trustee of Shirley Township to Probably Recover.

Assailants of Family as Yet Not Determined.

Concordia, Kan., April 5.—Three bloodhounds, 18, 12 and 10 years old, respectively, were sent to the home of the Tremblay family, with their heads crushed, and the father of the boys, L. J. Tremblay, a trustee of Shirley township, and another 8-year-old son, were injured. The assailants are unknown.

The elder Tremblay was found unconscious on the porch of his home this morning, his head injured and his feet bound with wire. He may recover.

The body of Theodore was found in the barn with the head crushed and the body almost destroyed by fire. The other four boys, Albert, Albert, Almon and Cleo, were found in the house. Only the youngest, Cleo, is expected to recover. All had suffered smashing blows on the head.

A little daughter, who had spent the night at a neighbor's home, was the only member of the family to escape injury.

L. J. Tremblay is reported to have recovered consciousness this morning long enough to say that he had no idea who had committed the crime. There are reports of an automobile said to have gone south from the Tremblay home about 11 o'clock last night and of another going north around 1 o'clock this morning.

Bloodhounds Will Hunt.

Bloodhounds were sent from here to the scene of the murder at once in the hope of picking up the scent of the slayers or some of the French Canadian community.

After the attack the slayers set fire to the house and barn. Scholars seeing the blaze early this morning went to the Tremblay home and rescued the unconscious victims.

Theodore Tremblay, the killed boy, was apparently alone in the barn when he was slain. Indications were that the boy had gone to the barn to attend to a sick horse there when he was attacked.

L. J. Tremblay, the father, said he knew of no reason why any one should have attacked him or his family.

ROBERT D. GARVER IN CITY

Former Judge of District Court Now in Kansas Territory.

Judge Robert D. Garver, for several years judge of the first division of the district court here, at present connected with the Kansas Fuel and Coal company, a Doherty concern, is a Topeka visitor today.

Judge Garver left Topeka in 1915 to accept the position of judge of the territory of the Empire company in Texas with headquarters at Fort Worth. A few days ago he was given the legal work of the company for the Kansas and Oklahoma territory with headquarters in Bartlesville.

In his new position Judge Garver will visit Topeka frequently.

POWELL PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Preliminary Hearing of Murder Charge Set for Next Tuesday.

Andrew J. Powell, who shot and killed Charles Bailey at the Powell home, Twenty-fourth street and Topeka boulevard Sunday night, pleaded not guilty when arraigned in the district court here this afternoon on a first degree murder charge.

His preliminary hearing was set for next Tuesday, W. E. Atchison, whom he has retained as his attorney, said the man probably will furnish bond soon.

The WEATHER
NEWS

FORECAST FOR KANSAS.
Unsettled weather tonight and Thursday with probably showers. Cooler Thursday afternoon or night.

SHOWERS PROBABLE TODAY

Unsettled and Cooler Is Forecast for Tomorrow.

TODAY'S TEMPERATURES:
7 o'clock.....53 12 o'clock.....60
3 o'clock.....58 12 o'clock.....60
8 o'clock.....40 1 o'clock.....64
11 o'clock.....48 2 o'clock.....66
There is a slight chance that the sun will shine and the wet spell will come to an end Thursday afternoon, says Meteorologist Flora. The showers will continue to fall tonight and Thursday morning, says the weather man. Topeka received a rain of .38 of an inch during the last twenty-four hours. The rainfall was general over Kansas and the middle west. There will be a slight drop in the temperature Thursday night.

Other Kansas cities reporting rain were: Kansas City, .12 of an inch; Concordia, .03 of an inch; Goodland, .02 of an inch; Emporia, .01 of an inch; Horton, .30 of an inch; Wichita, .39 of an inch; Anthony, .22 of an inch; Fort Scott, .14 inches; Hutchinson, .14 of an inch; Topeka, .14 of an inch.

(Continued on Page Two.)

HIRES A MANAGER

Automobile Association of Kansas Launches Its Program.

To Open Headquarters of State Organization.

The directors of the Automobile Association of Kansas, in session at the Chamber of Commerce at noon today, engaged E. J. Heckle, of Wichita, as secretary and manager of the association.

The directors also mapped out a program of activity for the organization into which it will enter at once, which will have as its object the improvement of the road laws of the state, and the securing of an adequate and just rearrangement of the highway fund.

Heckle has been in road construction work, engineering work, and promotion projects for the past nineteen years.

To Open Office Here.
He will open temporary headquarters with the Chamber of Commerce immediately. In those days the association will secure permanent offices for itself in Topeka.

Bad weather prevented a full attendance of the directors from over the state. There were present, however, A. J. Collins, of Subetha, and H. E. Powell, of Junction City. All the Topeka members of the board of directors were present.

The meeting was presided over by Charles W. Seely, president of the association.

WON'T GO TO WORK

Total of 3,900 Howat Sympathizers Idle Since October.

Must Have Approval From International, They Tell Court.

Nearly 3,900 Howat sympathizers in the Crawford county mining camp have been idle since October 1, according to testimony before the industrial court Tuesday afternoon.

There isn't much prospect that these men will return to the mines unless there is some official approval from the international union. In spite of the fact that the men have been declared outlaws by the union they will continue to look to the international for approval of their actions.

The industrial court paid the railroad and the Howat company, Charles Rumschick and Charles Swigart, who came here from Crawford county in answer to a second subpoena to appear as witnesses in the case, but they did not have the money with which to make the trip and the court paid their expenses. Their testimony seemingly threw no new light on the strike situation.

Court Makes Effort To Help.
It was apparent that the industrial court was looking for some method whereby the idle miners might go to work in event the regular recognized union miners continued their strike.

"If the present wage scale was continued and the operators held the whistle, would you recommend that the Howat men go back to work?" was a question asked of Rumschick.

"I don't know," said the witness. "I don't think so. We still recognize the international and don't intend to work without their approval. I am pretty sure I wouldn't go back and desert my men who are now out on strike."

William Howe, secretary-treasurer of the state federation of labor, again refused to answer questions from the industrial court. Returns showed the industrial court had been left at Howe's home in Crawford county. The industrial court has not indicated the action which will be taken to compel Howe's attendance.

SIXTH HENSON TRIAL STARTS.

Two New Witnesses Will Be Introduced, Prosecutor Says.

Wichita, April 5.—Introduction of testimony in the sixth murder trial of B. W. A. Henson, aged civil war veteran and once wealthy ranchman, began in the Sedgewick county district court here today.

Two witnesses who have not appeared in previous trials, the prosecutor announced, will be introduced to give evidence concerning the killing in 1915 of Walter Shafer, 17-year-old crippled stepson of Henson. Henson's first four trials on a charge of wife murder finally resulted in acquittal.

The selection of a jury was completed late Tuesday after the examination of eighty-nine veniremen.

MORGAN IN RACE

Hutchinson Newspaper Publisher Candidate for Governor.

Announcement Carries No Discussion of Political Issues.

HAWK IN CHARGE OF CAMPAIGN

Retiring President of Kansas Day Club Opens Office.

Morgan Served Two Terms as State Printer.

Announcement that W. Y. Morgan of Hutchinson would be a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor was made here today by William N. Hawk of Atchison. Morgan has been making an active campaign in the state for more than a year. His announcement, which was withheld until today merely states that he will seek the gubernatorial nomination. It carries no statement or discussion of state political issues.

Headquarters at National.
Morgan, who is publisher of the Hutchinson Daily News and one of the most widely known men in the state, will open headquarters in Topeka at once. Hawk, who is the retiring president of the Kansas Day club, will be in charge of the campaign.

Member of Text Book Board.
Mrs. Bullard is a member of the state school text book commission. She has had the text books for 1913 and served under administrations of Governor Hodges, Capper and Allen. Her tendency is to offer hope. Mrs. Bullard declared, but she asserts there is no hope under existing conditions.

"Under demoralization of the agricultural life of the state is threatened unless there is some relief from the terrible tax situation," Mrs. Bullard told George. "My neighbors are losing their farms and their homes. I am distressed on a valuation greater than the land would bring at forced sale. Some of these men are the very best farmers in Leavenworth county, too. But they cannot carry their burden.

High Taxes Are Driving Our Crop Producers from Farms, Says Mrs. Bullard

Prominent Club Woman and Social Worker Says Women Are Going to Take Hand in Tax Disturbance This Year—Says There Is No Hope Under Present Conditions.

"Do you know that many farms which do not yield the owners a return of more than $5 a year an acre, cost for taxes and interest $4 an acre. Cannot Meet Situation.

"Our farmers simply cannot meet this situation. Their farm valuations are being increased. Their earnings are being reduced. The farmers are being paying too much and getting too little."

Mrs. Bullard was asked as to her remedy. "I don't know," she said. "I am going to look into it. A greater tax on intangible securities seems best to me."

Women To Talk It Over.
Next week a large number of women—most of them wives of farmers and stockmen—will meet at the big Bullard home to discuss the tax problem.

"Will the women's clubs take a hand in the tax disturbance this year?" was asked.

"Greater than ever before," said Mrs. Bullard. "I have never known to be more interested in a subject."

TO GIVE HIS BLOOD C. OF C. ELECTION

Paroled Prisoner Prepares to Save Life of Ex-Sailor.

Bert Thompson Is Lying Almost at Death's Door.

Within two hours after being paroled from the Shawnee county jail today, Henry Byers, of Pittsburgh, Pa., was preparing to give a pint of his blood to save the life of Bert Thompson, an ex-sailor, who is lying almost at death's door in Christ's hospital.

Byers, who was paroled today at noon by Judge James McClure in the district court, had already volunteered to submit to the blood transfusion to save Thompson's life. Laboratory tests indicated that his blood could be used.

Thompson, a 30-year-old, is suffering with pernicious anemia. He is a brother of George C. Thompson, 124 Fillmore street, former secretary of the Kansas Reserve Investment company. Thompson was in the navy during the war and developed the disease with which he is now suffering about the time of his discharge in the summer of 1919.

Legion Becomes Interested.
The local post of the American Legion became interested in the case when the transfusion of blood became necessary to look for candidates. Two men were examined, but it was found that their blood could not be used. When Harry Berger, adjutant of the local post, appeared at the hospital, he was told that once came forward and volunteered.

Authorities assured Byers that his action in either accepting or declining the operation would not affect his status in regard to a parole, but it appeared to make no difference to Byers. He told Judge McClure that he had no objection to the operation one time and that he is willing to do it again. In spite of four months confinement in the state penitentiary, he is in excellent health and fine spirits.

Sentenced to Six Months in Jail.
Byers was sentenced December 20, 1921, by Judge Paul Helm in the city court to serve a sentence of six months on charges of misappropriating funds he had collected while acting as agent for the Mutual Laundry company, of London, Ky.

Had Been Twelve Years.
Arkansas City, April 5.—Joseph H. Matthews, age 73, for the past 12 years telegraph editor on the Daily Traveler, died here suddenly last night while on the street, the cause being heart disease. He was an early day settler in southern Kansas and was a government engineer here in the early days of Kansas and Indian territory and had been employed at different times in the territory.

For a number of years he held the office of city engineer and also was road engineer of Cowley county for a time. He leaves a wife and two sons.

MISSOURI VOTING SPIRITED

Unusually Heavy Vote Over Entire State Shown by Returns.

Kansas City, April 5.—The municipal elections held throughout Missouri today showed an unusually heavy vote over the state. The returns showed the Democrats elected four of five candidates for aldermen and carried the city by nearly five hundred votes. The vote for the city engineer was 1,200 to 1,000 for the Republicans.

MUSCLE SHOALS TO ARMY NOW?

Engineers Would Handle Wilson Dam Construction Under Senate Rule.

Washington, April 5.—Resumption of work on the gigantic Wilson dam at Muscle Shoals, Ala., under charge of army engineers, was recommended today by the senate agriculture committee, which voted unanimously to press an amendment to the army supply bill providing an appropriation of $5,500,000 to finance work on the dam for one year beginning next July 1.

High Taxes Are Driving
Our Crop Producers from Farms, Says Mrs. Bullard

Prominent Club Woman and Social Worker Says Women Are Going to Take Hand in Tax Disturbance This Year—Says There Is No Hope Under Present Conditions.

land would bring at forced sale. Some of these men are the very best farmers in Leavenworth county, too. But they cannot carry their burden.

"Do you know that many farms which do not yield the owners a return of more than $5 a year an acre, cost for taxes and interest $4 an acre. Cannot Meet Situation.

"Our farmers simply cannot meet this situation. Their farm valuations are being increased. Their earnings are being reduced. The farmers are being paying too much and getting too little."

Mrs. Bullard was asked as to her remedy. "I don't know," she said. "I am going to look into it. A greater tax on intangible securities seems best to me."

Women To Talk It Over.
Next week a large number of women—most of them wives of farmers and stockmen—will meet at the big Bullard home to discuss the tax problem.

"Will the women's clubs take a hand in the tax disturbance this year?" was asked.

"Greater than ever before," said Mrs. Bullard. "I have never known to be more interested in a subject."

TO GIVE HIS BLOOD C. OF C. ELECTION

Paroled Prisoner Prepares to Save Life of Ex-Sailor.

Bert Thompson Is Lying Almost at Death's Door.

Within two hours after being paroled from the Shawnee county jail today, Henry Byers, of Pittsburgh, Pa., was preparing to give a pint of his blood to save the life of Bert Thompson, an ex-sailor, who is lying almost at death's door in Christ's hospital.

Byers, who was paroled today at noon by Judge James McClure in the district court, had already volunteered to submit to the blood transfusion to save Thompson's life. Laboratory tests indicated that his blood could be used.

Thompson, a 30-year-old, is suffering with pernicious anemia. He is a brother of George C. Thompson, 124 Fillmore street, former secretary of the Kansas Reserve Investment company. Thompson was in the navy during the war and developed the disease with which he is now suffering about the time of his discharge in the summer of 1919.

Legion Becomes Interested.
The local post of the American Legion became interested in the case when the transfusion of blood became necessary to look for candidates. Two men were examined, but it was found that their blood could not be used. When Harry Berger, adjutant of the local post, appeared at the hospital, he was told that once came forward and volunteered.

Authorities assured Byers that his action in either accepting or declining the operation would not affect his status in regard to a parole, but it appeared to make no difference to Byers. He told Judge McClure that he had no objection to the operation one time and that he is willing to do it again. In spite of four months confinement in the state penitentiary, he is in excellent health and fine spirits.

Sentenced to Six Months in Jail.
Byers was sentenced December 20, 1921, by Judge Paul Helm in the city court to serve a sentence of six months on charges of misappropriating funds he had collected while acting as agent for the Mutual Laundry company, of London, Ky.

Had Been Twelve Years.
Arkansas City, April 5.—Joseph H. Matthews, age 73, for the past 12 years telegraph editor on the Daily Traveler, died here suddenly last night while on the street, the cause being heart disease. He was an early day settler in southern Kansas and was a government engineer here in the early days of Kansas and Indian territory and had been employed at different times in the territory.

For a number of years he held the office of city engineer and also was road engineer of Cowley county for a time. He leaves a wife and two sons.

MISSOURI VOTING SPIRITED

Unusually Heavy Vote Over Entire State Shown by Returns.

Kansas City, April 5.—The municipal elections held throughout Missouri today showed an unusually heavy vote over the state. The returns showed the Democrats elected four of five candidates for aldermen and carried the city by nearly five hundred votes. The vote for the city engineer was 1,200 to 1,000 for the Republicans.

MUSCLE SHOALS TO ARMY NOW?

Engineers Would Handle Wilson Dam Construction Under Senate Rule.

Washington, April 5.—Resumption of work on the gigantic Wilson dam at Muscle Shoals, Ala., under charge of army engineers, was recommended today by the senate agriculture committee, which voted unanimously to press an amendment to the army supply bill providing an appropriation of $5,500,000 to finance work on the dam for one year beginning next July 1.

Homes Rent for $50 a Year But Wages Are $20 a Month

Odessa Is a City for Bargain Hunters Now With Valuable Paintings for $2.00 and Persian Rugs for Less Than Twenty.

Odessa, April 5.—This port is and will be for several months the paradise of the bargain hunter.

A leather valise sold in Paris or London for $50 may be had here for $5. Persian rugs go begging at $15 to $20—rugs that in Persia would sell for $50 as the seller swears by his father's memory that he was robbing his father's treasure.

Paintings by famous artists sell for $2 to $3 with the frame thrown in worth at least $20. Silverware for the table set for 5 to 10 cents per ounce. A foreigner settling here for a year easily, and buy an indefinite table set for $200. They are carried to get work insuring $20 worth of food a month, they say.

Diamonds and objects of value are covertly shown to the prospective purchaser. The dealer still fears the old laws against speculation and free trade. The city is full of thousands of young men who speak French, German and English. They are glad to get work insuring $20 worth of food a month, they say.

Democrat Wins at Hartford, Conn.

Hartford, Conn., April 5.—Richard J. Kinsella, Democrat, was elected mayor of Hartford yesterday and with him was carried into office. Kinsella defeated Anson T. McCook, Republican, by a plurality of 3,375.

TRIO IS CAPTURED

Mrs. York, Her Daughter and Alleged Missionary, Caught.

Taken Into Custody in Lincoln, Neb., Says Report.

KIDNAPED OWN DAUGHTER

Sheriff Miller to Leave Soon to Return Them Here.

Man Held Is Supposed to Be Henry Ostrander.

Mrs. Leota A. York, Philippine Islands missionary, and her 15-year-old daughter Mary, whom she abducted March 28 from Overbrook school, together with a man supposed to be Henry Ostrander, an alleged missionary, have been captured and are being held by the police in Lincoln, Neb., according to word received today by Sheriff Robert Miller.

The trio were arrested on descriptions sent out from the sheriff's office here. It was not stated whether they were still driving the truck in which they left Carbondale last Tuesday, although it has been said that the truck was seen in Nebraska. Sheriff Miller said he would leave for Lincoln, probably tonight, with requisition papers to return the trio to Topeka.

Habeas Corpus Suit Pending.
A habeas corpus suit, brought by Ed York, farmer living near Overbrook, divorced husband of the woman and father of the girl, is pending in the district court.

They Face Another Charge.
Mrs. York and the man supposed to be Ostrander also face a state warrant, issued by County Attorney Veale, charging them with living together in a state of adultery. The man said to have lived together for some time in a mission at 405 East Fourth avenue. The man's name does not appear on the warrant, but his name is Henry Ostrander, according to information in the hands of Rad M. Le, York's attorney.

They Face Another Charge.
Mrs. York and the man supposed to be Ostrander also face a state warrant, issued by County Attorney Veale, charging them with living together in a state of adultery. The man said to have lived together for some time in a mission at 405 East Fourth avenue. The man's name does not appear on the warrant, but his name is Henry Ostrander, according to information in the hands of Rad M. Le, York's attorney.

They Face Another Charge.
Mrs. York and the man supposed to be Ostrander also face a state warrant, issued by County Attorney Veale, charging them with living together in a state of adultery. The man said to have lived together for some time in a mission at 405 East Fourth avenue. The man's name does not appear on the warrant, but his name is Henry Ostrander, according to information in the hands of Rad M. Le, York's attorney.

They Face Another Charge.
Mrs. York and the man supposed to be Ostrander also face a state warrant, issued by County Attorney Veale, charging them with living together in a state of adultery. The man said to have lived together for some time in a mission at 405 East Fourth avenue. The man's name does not appear on the warrant, but his name is Henry Ostrander, according to information in the hands of Rad M. Le, York's attorney.

They Face Another Charge.
Mrs. York and the man supposed to be Ostrander also face a state warrant, issued by County Attorney Veale, charging them with living together in a state of adultery. The man said to have lived together for some time in a mission at 405 East Fourth avenue. The man's name does not appear on the warrant, but his name is Henry Ostrander, according to information in the hands of Rad M. Le, York's attorney.

They Face Another Charge.
Mrs. York and the man supposed to be Ostrander also face a state warrant, issued by County Attorney Veale, charging them with living together in a state of adultery. The man said to have lived together for some time in a mission at 405 East Fourth avenue. The man's name does not appear on the warrant, but his name is Henry Ostrander, according to information in the hands of Rad M. Le, York's attorney.

They Face Another Charge.
Mrs. York and the man supposed to be Ostrander also face a state warrant, issued by County Attorney Veale, charging them with living together in a state of adultery. The man said to have lived together for some time in a mission at 405 East Fourth avenue. The man's name does not appear on the warrant, but his name is Henry Ostrander, according to information in the hands of Rad M. Le, York's attorney.

They Face Another Charge.
Mrs. York and the man supposed to be Ostrander also face a state warrant, issued by County Attorney Veale, charging them with living together in a state of adultery. The man said to have lived together for some time in a mission at 405 East Fourth avenue. The man's name does not appear on the warrant, but his name is Henry Ostrander, according to information in the hands of Rad M. Le, York's attorney.

They Face Another Charge.
Mrs. York and the man supposed to be Ostrander also face a state warrant, issued by County Attorney Veale, charging them with living together in a state of adultery. The man said to have lived together for some time in a mission at 405 East Fourth avenue. The man's name does not appear on the warrant, but his name is Henry Ostrander, according to information in the hands of Rad M. Le, York's attorney.

They Face Another Charge.
Mrs. York and the man supposed to be Ostrander also face a state warrant, issued by County Attorney Veale, charging them with living together in a state of adultery. The man said to have lived together for some time in a mission at 405 East Fourth avenue. The man's name does not appear on the warrant, but his name is Henry Ostrander, according to information in the hands of Rad M. Le, York's attorney.

They Face Another Charge.
Mrs. York and the man supposed to be Ostrander also face a state warrant, issued by County Attorney Veale, charging them with living together in a state of adultery. The man said to have lived together for some time in a mission at 405 East Fourth avenue. The man's name does not appear on the warrant, but his name is Henry Ostrander, according to information in the hands of Rad M. Le, York's attorney.

They Face Another Charge.
Mrs. York and the man supposed to be Ostrander also face a state warrant, issued by County Attorney Veale, charging them with living together in a state of adultery. The man said to have lived together for some time in a mission at 405 East Fourth avenue. The man's name does not appear on the warrant, but his name is Henry Ostrander, according to information in the hands of Rad M. Le, York's attorney.

They Face Another Charge.
Mrs. York and the man supposed to be Ostrander also face a state warrant, issued by County Attorney Veale, charging them with living together in a state of adultery. The man said to have lived together for some time in a mission at 405 East Fourth avenue. The man's name does not appear on the warrant, but his name is Henry Ostrander, according to information in the hands of Rad M. Le, York's attorney.

They Face Another Charge.
Mrs. York and the man supposed to be Ostrander also face a state warrant, issued by County Attorney Veale, charging them with living together in a state of adultery. The man said to have lived together for some time in a mission at 405 East Fourth avenue. The man's name does not appear on the warrant, but his name is Henry Ostrander, according to information in the hands of Rad M. Le, York's attorney.

They Face Another Charge.
Mrs. York and the man supposed to be Ostrander also face a state warrant, issued by County Attorney Veale, charging them with living together in a state of adultery. The man said to have lived together for some time in a mission at 405 East Fourth avenue. The man's name does not appear on the warrant, but his name is Henry Ostrander, according to information in the hands of Rad M. Le, York's attorney.

They Face Another Charge.
Mrs. York and the man supposed to be Ostrander also face a state warrant, issued by County Attorney Veale, charging them with living together in a state of adultery. The man said to have lived together for some time in a mission at 405 East Fourth avenue. The man's name does not appear on the warrant, but his name is Henry Ostrander, according to information in the hands of Rad M. Le, York's attorney.

They Face Another Charge.
Mrs. York and the man supposed to be Ostrander also face a state warrant, issued by County Attorney Veale, charging them with living together in a state of adultery. The man said to have lived together for some time in a mission at 405 East Fourth avenue. The man's name does not appear on the warrant, but his name is Henry Ostrander, according to information in the hands of Rad M. Le, York's attorney.

They Face Another Charge.
Mrs. York and the man supposed to be Ostrander also face a state warrant, issued by County Attorney Veale, charging them with living together in a state of adultery. The man said to have lived together for some time in a mission at 405 East Fourth avenue. The man's name does not appear on the warrant, but his name is Henry Ostrander, according to information in the hands of Rad M. Le, York's attorney.

They Face Another Charge.
Mrs. York and the man supposed to be Ostrander also face a state warrant, issued by County Attorney Veale, charging them with living together in a state of adultery. The man said to have lived together for some time in a mission at 405 East Fourth avenue. The man's name does not appear on the warrant, but his name is Henry Ostrander, according to information in the hands of Rad M. Le, York's attorney.

They Face Another Charge.
Mrs. York and the man supposed to be Ostrander also face a state warrant, issued by County Attorney Veale, charging them with living together in a state of adultery. The man said to have lived together for some time in a mission at 405 East Fourth avenue. The man's name does not appear on the warrant, but his name is Henry Ostrander, according to information in the hands of Rad M. Le, York's attorney.

They Face Another Charge.
Mrs. York and the man supposed to be Ostrander also face a state warrant, issued by County Attorney Veale, charging them with living together in a state of adultery. The man said to have lived together for some time in a mission at 405 East Fourth avenue. The man's name does not appear on the warrant, but his name is Henry Ostrander, according to information in the hands of Rad M. Le, York's attorney.

They Face Another Charge.
Mrs. York and the man supposed to be Ostrander also face a state warrant, issued by County Attorney Veale, charging them with living together in a state of adultery. The man said to have lived together for some time in a mission at 405 East Fourth avenue. The man's name does not appear on the warrant, but his name is Henry Ostrander, according to information in the hands of Rad M. Le, York's attorney.

They Face Another Charge.
Mrs. York and the man supposed to be Ostrander also face a state warrant, issued by County Attorney Veale, charging them with living together in a state of adultery. The man